Preface

Dear NCPEA Member:

We are delighted to be launching the first edition of the NCPEA Member Research Directory. The NCPEA leadership team, under the leadership of President Gary Kinsey and the Executive Board, created this directory as a tool to assist you in your work as a researcher, communicator, mentor or protégé, and more. All members of NCPEA are provided with a complimentary copy of this Directory. This database provides an abbreviated professional dossier of each member. It enables you to find folks with ease, make matches of your own, and pave new creative directions for yourself.

How to Use the Research Directory

The Research Directory is indexed by name and research areas so users can locate colleagues in specific areas of scholarly and practical expertise and areas of focus within dissertations. Users can cross-reference information for various purposes and establish common areas of research and practice. By making contacts, users form new relationships and extend work arrangements. You can locate potential collaborators and mentors and have access to an up-to-date source of information that will be useful for making connections, working collaboratively, and doing research. Locate other NCPEA members with expertise and knowledge in specific areas related to your focus in education leadership and administration. Find colleagues with the same or different research interests and experiences in supervising dissertation research, as another example. You can also gather information about our members for such purposes as improving communications and making connections across the areas of networking, researching, mentoring, publishing, and program and policy analysis.

Look for mentors, editors, and other experienced professionals who can provide support in the early phases of professional development. In the spirit of NCPEA, lend a hand if you are an experienced member or professional and connect with our newer members and early-career professionals. Or, just be a buddy and share ideas, tips, or information with others.

This directory will save you hours otherwise spent endlessly surfing (and troubleshooting broken web links) to locate people's names, addresses, research areas, and other information. By having taken the survey, your name entered this nation-wide document that other members will scan and search for overall benefit to everyone and NCPEA as a growing organization. We thank you for the time you took to complete the survey.

How to Be Included in Future Directories

Share the link with other members who may have missed completing the survey. If you are a member, you'll want to be indexed in the directory:
<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/CJYVK2N>

Send any changes or amendments to the existing directory to Dr. Carol A. Mullen at camullen@uncg.edu

Members who have completed the survey have been offering their services as mentors or requesting that such services be made available; this is an example of the type of organizational networking that NCPEA can do on your behalf and at the fingertips of its own membership.

Enjoy.

Members

Fenwick W. English, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Sandra L. Harris, Lamar University

Bonnie M. Beyer, University of Michigan-Dearborn

(Please be assured that your information will not be used for non-NCPEA purposes or sold.)

Forward

The NCPEA Member Research Directory is part of an overall initiative by NCPEA's Executive Board to serve the interests of leadership professors and school leaders. This directory evolved from the brainstorming and long hours of NCPEA leaders, which included our research of existing directories posted on the Internet. This ready-made tool for yourself and other members is a living testimony of the leaders' commitment to the National Council of Professors of Educational Administration (NCPEA), the website of which is <http://www.emich.edu/ncpeaprofessors>. The current headquarters is Eastern Michigan University.

NCPEA, established in 1947, has always had a unique stake in the study and practice of educational administration. More than ever, we are growing as a national-level, premier organization. You're probably noticing a growth spurt in our membership, publications, scholarship, program and policy contributions, and more across multiple platforms that include membership. The existence of this directory is but one way in which NCPEA is inviting a broad spectrum of membership participation in the organization and profession.
